Dear Friends,

2017 was a year of influence, growth and impact, fulfilling our mission to engage the community to end domestic violence through advocacy, education and collaboration.

As a convening organization, DVN identifies risk and protective factors to prevent domestic violence. After identifying the most pressing factors, we facilitate collaboration among the agencies and service providers working directly with those affected.

Our influence through advocacy resulted in an assessment of domestic violence survivors' needs as they navigate the criminal justice system and helped to improve the process for survivors obtaining a civil protective order.

Our growth through education spanned across the globe, as DVN was invited to present at local, national and international conferences, training 1,747 adults an increase of more than 61 percent from 2016.

Our impact through collaboration is best demonstrated by the 242 survivors and their children who received emergency transportation and assistance through the Karen Dees Self Sufficiency Fund.

On behalf of the DVN board of directors and staff members, we thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,

Executive Director Kelly McBride

The shelters were full,
and our domestic violence survivor and her children had nowhere to go.

Without a safe place to reside, the Department of Child Services would be required to remove the children from their mother. In a time of dire need, the Marion County Prosecutor's Office turned to DVN's Karen Dees Self Sufficiency Fund for temporary housing. DVN's quick response helped keep our survivor and her children together.
